

SPX To Present at Electrical Products Group Conference

May 12, 2010 8:04 AM ET

CHARLOTTE, N.C., May 12, 2010 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ --SPX Corporation (NYSE: SPW) today announced that Chris Kearney, Chairman, President and CEO, will present at the Electrical Products Group Conference in Longboat Key, FL, on Monday, May 17, 2010 at 11:30 a.m. Eastern Time. SPX CFO Patrick O'Leary will also attend and participate in the Q&A session that will immediately follow Mr. Kearney's presentation.

A live webcast of the presentation and related materials will be posted to the Investor Relations section of SPX's website (www.spx.com). The audio replay will be accessible on the website through May 31, 2010.

SPX Corporation (NYSE: SPW) is a Fortune 500 multi-industry manufacturing leader that provides its customers with highly-specialized, engineered solutions to solve critical business issues.

SPX products and technologies play an important role in the expansion of global infrastructure to help meet increased demand for power and energy and support many different sources of power generation, including coal and natural gas, nuclear, solar and geothermal. The company's innovative product portfolio, containing many energy efficient products, includes cooling systems for power plants throughout the world; highly advanced food processing components and turnkey, scalable systems serving the global food and beverage industry; process equipment that assists a variety of flow processes including oil and gas exploration, distribution and refinement and power generation; handheld diagnostic tools that aid in vehicle maintenance and repair; and power transformers that allow utility companies to regulate electric voltage, transmission and distribution.

With headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina, SPX has approximately 15,000 employees in more than 35 countries worldwide. Visit www.spx.com.

SOURCE SPX Corporation